

HISTORY at Concordia University this summer

LOYOLA CAMPUS

First Session 8 May - 10 July

HISTORY L203

History of Canada, Pre-Confederation
(S. Kenny)

A survey of Canadian history, from settlement to Confederation, which emphasizes readings and discussions on selected problems.
(3 credits) TuTh 9-12 noon (8 May-5 June)

HISTORY L205

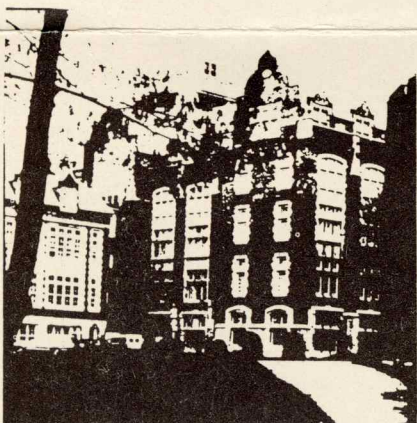

History of Canada, Post-Confederation
(S. Kenny)

A survey of Canadian history from Confederation to the present, which emphasizes readings and discussions on selected problems.
(3 credits) TuTh 9-12 noon (12 June-10 July)

HISTORY L232

Protest Movements in the Middle Ages
(E. Moore)

A view of the dialogue between the forces of the 'established order,' (in government, religion, and society,) and movements of dissent.
(6 credits) MW 7-9:30 P.M.

HISTORY L264

Germany and Austria in Modern Times
(F. Nicosia)

Prereq. European survey or permission. Socio-economic change and the development of nation-states in German Central Europe from the 18th C. to the present.
(6 credits) TuTh 7-9:30 P.M.

HISTORY L291

Selected Topics in History: History of Scotland (N.H. Reid)

An introduction to Scottish institutions, society, and culture from the late medieval period to the present century.
(6 credits) MW 9-12 noon

Second Session

6 July - 16 August

HISTORY S391

Special Areas Studies: The Immigrant Experience in North America
(Y.G. Kelebay)

A study of the process of immigration to N. America and adjustment to N. American society, with reference to selected ethnic experiences. Prereq. some survey course in Canadian or U.S., or by permission.
(6 credits) M-Th 9-12 noon

SIR GEORGE CAMPUS

First Session - 8 May - 10 July

HISTORY L201

Introduction to European History, 1400-1789 (M. Sibalís)

A survey of the history of Europe from the Renaissance to the French Revolution with emphasis on the development of ideas and political institutions.
(3 credits) MW 6:15-9:15 P.M. (8 May-5 June)

HISTORY L202

Introduction to European History, 1789- to the present (M. Sibalís)

A survey of the history of Europe from the French Revolution to the present day with emphasis on the development of ideas and political institutions.
(3 credits) MW 6:15-9:15 P.M. (12 June-10 July)

HISTORY L272

A History of China (M. Singer)

The course will examine the evolution of Chinese society from approximately 2000 B.C. to the present.
(6 credits) TuTh 6:15-9:15 P.M.

HISTORY S325

French Canada: 1763-1867 (G. Allaire)

An intensive study of French Canada from the Conquest to Confederation. Much of the material will be in French. Prereq. Canadian survey or permission.
(6 credits) TuTh 9-12 noon.

HISTORY S341

History of Russia (L. Uhde)

This course traces the origin of the Slavic-speaking peoples in Europe and the emergence of the Russian Empire. After a discussion of Bolshevism, it studies the history of communist government in the USSR and among the Slavic peoples. Prereq. S210 or permission of instructor.
(6 credits) MW 9-12 noon

HISTORY S490

Honours Essay

See description in University Calendar
(6 credits)

Second Session 6 July - 16 August

HISTORY L290

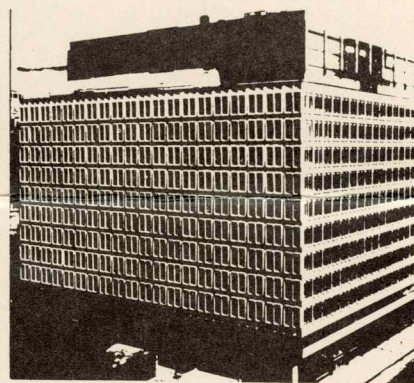

History of Feminism in English and French Canada (J. Stoddart)

A comparison of the developing feminist traditions in Canada's two dominant cultures. Lectures, discussions and guest lecturers. (May be taken for credit in Women's Studies).
(6 credits) M-Th 9-12 noon

HISTORY S491

Advanced Study: The Jewish People in the Biblical Age (M. Elat)

A study of the Jewish people in the Old Testament era and the political, economic and social foundations of their society. (May be taken for credit in Jewish Studies).
(6 credits) M-Th 9-12 noon

The Faculty

Gratien Allaire has taught at the Universities of Alberta and Quebec as well as at Concordia, and is carrying out a study of the voyageurs and the fur trade.

Moshe Elat is Senior lecturer in Jewish History at the Hebrew University, Jerusalem. He has published a book and over a dozen articles on the Old Testament period.

Y.G. Kelebay teaches at the McGill Faculty of Education as well as at Concordia, and has done extensive research on immigrant groups in Canada.

Stephen Kenny serves as a lecturer in the Department of History at Concordia, and is completing a research project on Anglo-French cultural relations in the 1840's.

Ellen Moore, an adjunct member of our own Department, is a graduate of the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, Toronto, and has published on the trade fairs of medieval England.

Francis Nicosia holds a PhD in German History from McGill, and is particularly interested in German policy toward the Palestine Question.

Norman Reid is a graduate of the University of Edinburgh, where he won the Elliot Prize for Scottish History in 1977. He is currently serving as President of the Scottish History Society at Edinburgh.

Michael Sibalís has taught at both Dalhousie and Concordia, and is a student of modern French Social History.

Martin Singer holds a PhD from Michigan and is an Associate Professor of History in our own Department.

Jennifer Stoddart has taught at the Universities of Quebec and Québec à Montréal as well as at Concordia, and is particularly interested in the history of women in the Quebec milieu.

Ludmila Uhde has taught both Russian literature and Russian History at the University of Waterloo, and joins us for her second summer at Concordia.

Registration Information: Tel: 879-4235(SGW) 482-0320, ext. 611(Loyola)
Course Information: Tel: 482-0320 ext. 460, 465